KIDNAPPED ON WALK HOME FROM SCHOOL

Six-Year-Old Girl Held for $15,000 Ransom in Arizona

MAN ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF CRIME

TUCSON, Ariz., April 25 (AP).—June Robles, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Robles, and granddaughter of Bernabe Robles, one of Pima County's wealthiest citizens, was kidnapped as she was returning home from school here, today, and held for $15,000 ransom, police reported.

The little girl was picked up by a man in a "little black car" about 3 o'clock, but it did not become known that she had been abducted until some hours later.

DEMANDED RANSOM

A small boy, Rosendo Estrada, appeared at the Robles Electric Company, operated by the girl's father, with a note telling of the kidnapping and demanding the ransom. The note, roughly printed, gave detailed instructions for delivery of the money and warned Robles not to reveal contents of the missive to authorities. Robles later notified police, but refused to let them read the note he had received.

Barney Kengla, six-year-old cousin of the kidnapped girl, told police she was walking a short distance behind him en route home from school. He saw a "little black car" drive up and heard the driver call to June. The girl, he said, went to the car and he saw her get in and watched the car drive away.

SEARCHING CITY

Upon being informed of the kidnapping, Colby S. Farrar, Pima County undersheriff, assembled every available deputy sheriff and police officer and directed guards over all roads leading out of the city. Then he launched a search within the city for the kidnapper. The boy who delivered the ransom note to Robles told police a man he did not know had given him 25 cents to deliver the message.

Tonight police searched a man they said tallied with the description of the suspected kidnapper. The man was arrested after a newsboy gave a description to police of a man who earlier tonight had offered him $10 to take a letter to Fernando Robles, the girl's father.

ORDER RESTORED IN STRIKE AREA

Three Injured When Group of New Brunswick Miners Attacked by Strikers

MINTO, N.B., April 25 (CP).—With police reinforcements on duty tonight, quiet continued after a brief clash between striking coal miners and non-striking in this district. Three men were injured, none seriously, when a large group of strikers attacked a small party of Minto Coal Company employees, today, and seven alleged members of the attacking force were arrested and remanded until May 3.

The workers were proceeding towards the mines in a motorcade, when a mob, who wielded clubs and took away the men's equipment. Appearance of two members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police put the attackers to flight into nearby woods. Eleven additional members of the R.C.M.P. were sent to the scene from Fredericton and no further trouble of a serious nature was expected.

Loggers Told S.P.A. Decrees Will Aid Cause of Strikers

Speakers Urging Continuation of Walkout at Rock Bay Advance Extraordinary Arguments to Win Vote—All Quiet at Camp Three

VANCOUVER, April 25.—Striking loggers from Rock Bay, north end of Seymour Narrows, held a stormy meeting here tonight, and voted, 58 to 40, to continue the strike. The meeting was addressed by several speakers, who told the men that the Special Powers Act would come into effect tomorrow, and that the Government would make it possible for camp committees to handle the strikers' demands successfully.

Most of the men appear anxious to return to work, and it took the strike leaders nearly two hours to convince them that the Government's new powers under the S.P.A. would be thrown in the balance in their favor.

Generous relief was promised by strike leaders to the men out at Green Point, Harrison Lake, yesterday. Relief funds are becoming low and men were showing signs of discontent.

There evidently is some confusion among the men as to the scope of the S.P.A. and the Male Minimum Wage Act, and powers possessed by the former were thought to be with-

A Few of Victoria's Sun-Kissed Beauties

NO, this is not the Everglades, Miami, or Santa Monica Beach, California, but Beaver Lake, Victoria, B.C., and incidentally the picture was taken last week. A few of the local swimming enthusiasts are getting their sun-tan early. Beaver Lake is rapidly becoming one of the most popular "swimming holes" on the south end of Vancouver Island. The weather of last week was most conducive for aquatic sport.

CLEAR WAY FOR DIVISION

Vote May Be Taken on Government Marketing Bill Late Today

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—The House of Commons, today, cleared the way for a vote tomorrow on the Government Marketing Bill. The whips still have a long list of speakers but said they believed a division would be possible late in the day.

"It is time for a new Magna Charta, not for the barons but for the common people of this country," said Abraham Heaps, Labor member for Winnipeg North, in leading the forces favorable to the bill. With 500,000 Canadians out of work, it was time for dramatic action and still intervention, private enterprise being incapable of lifting the country from the slough of depression.

EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS

Only one Liberal took the floor today, Dr. Herman Desautel, Liberal, St. Mary-Montreal. From the Conservative side were two Western members, Erick Willis, Souris, and Ernest Perley, Qu'Appelle, and a Prince Edward Islander, John Myers. Each was loud in his praise of the bill.

Not Expecting To Meet Any Sea Serpents

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—Even though he plans to drop 3,000 feet down into the depths of the ocean in a diving globe, William Beebe doesn't expect to see any sea serpents.

"I saw one once," he said tonight, a grin wrinkling his weathered face. Then I took a second look. At first glance it was a tremendous sea serpent writhing away into the horizon. It turned out to be the members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police put the attackers to flight into nearby woods. Eleven additional members of the R.C.M.P. were sent to the scene from Fredericton and no further trouble of a serious nature was expected.

Mr. Beebe tonight was making last preparations for his departure for St. George, Bermuda, where he will spend six months studying deep-sea fish and the strange, weird lives they lead.

All Spain Declared In a State of Alarm When Premier Quits

Free State Senate Rejects Another Government Bill

DUBLIN, April 25 (CP via Havas).—The Senate rejected another Government measure today. By thirty votes to seventeen it refused to authorize the Irish Free State Government's reintroduction of the bill extending the right of voting in municipal elections of young men of twenty-one. The Government attached particular importance to this bill because many of its supporters are young men.

B.C. DELEGATES MAKE PROGRESS

Premier Pattullo Continuing Discussions for Financial Aid From Dominion

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Beyond Premier T. D. Pattullo's brief announcement that "we are making progress," there was little indication, tonight, of the stage reached in the negotiations which the British Columbia Government is carrying on with the Dominion concerning Provincial finances.

Two meetings were held today, and after the first it was believed that some possibilities existed of an announcement this afternoon. The later meeting, however, was brief, with little time available for conference.

MAY CALL MINISTERS

Premier discussions will be held. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett stated, and the British Columbia ministers will probably be called in for tomorrow's Cabinet meeting. The sum of $8,000,000 is mentioned as the sum which the Dominion is asking the Dominion to advance.

Committee Favors Votes for Women

Bomb Thrown Into Minister's Car After Declaration—Reports Recurrent in Madrid That President Zamora Would Resign in View of Tense Political and Labor Situation

MADRID, April 25 (AP).—The declaration of a nationwide state of alarm, and recurrent reports that President Niceto Alcala Zamora would quit, were sensational sequels, tonight, to the resignation of Premier Alejandro Lerroux's Government.

U.S. Planning Early Start On Warships

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP).—Within four months the United States Government expects to start building twenty of the ninety-five ships needed to bring the United States navy up to treaty limits. President Roosevelt let it be known today the $1,000,000,000 appropriation bill he will submit to Congress shortly would provide money for initial construction in the treaty naval programme.

That bill, said Chairman Carl Vinson of the House naval committee, will carry about $40,000,000 for the first year's work on six submarines of 1,300 tons, twelve destroyers of 1,500 tons, and two destroyer leaders of 1,800 tons.

DOG SAVES GIRLS FROM SNAKE BITE

Leaps Between Rattler and Children as Reptile Strikes Reclining Wound Itself

LEWISTON, Mont., April 25 (CP).—A dog was credited today with saving two girls from the venomous bite of a large rattlesnake.

The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen, were picking wild flowers when the snake, already coiled, struck at them. At the same instant the family dog jumped between the girls and the snake, which buried its fangs in the animal. Allen, fishing nearby, killed the reptile, and, with a pocket knife, cut out the wound inflicted upon the dog. He said he expected the animal to recover.

TO BUILD SHELTER CELLARS

New Zealand's Deficit Is Much Less Than Expected

WELLINGTON, N.Z., April 25 (CP cable via Reuters).—Cheering revenue figures for the fiscal year ending in March were announced today by Finance Minister J. G. Coates. He reported a deficit of around $3,500,000, compared with a deficit of $10,000,000 that had been expected when the budget was drawn up.

One of the most noteworthy features of the year was the improvement in New Zealand's state railway finances, the Finance Minister said. Practically every item of taxation yielded revenue above the estimate. Economic conditions were improving, and although the process might be slow, "New Zealand is definitely on the upgrade," Mr. Coates declared.

Revenue amounted to approximately $117,500,000, an increase of nearly $6,250,000 over the estimate. Ordinary expenditures amounted to $121,250,000, although under the estimates.

JAPAN CLARIFIES STATEMENT BY CONFIRMATION OF POLICY

SEEK ARREST OF MACHADO

Former Cuban President Disappears as War-rant Issued

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—Gerardo Machado, deposed president of Cuba, once known for his iron rule of the island republic, was made the object of an intensive search tonight by United States marshals, detectives and police.

Apparently having left the city in the face of threatened extradition to his homeland, it was rumored he had again fled to Canada. No definite basis for the report could be uncovered. When he left Cuba, Machado found haven in Montreal and other places.

The Herald-Tribune said it understood a warrant seeking Machado's arrest in extradition proceedings brought by the Cuban Government had been issued by United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotten at the request of Robert E. Manley, as counsel for the foreign Government.

NOT AT APARTMENT

Authorities who went to the apartment in East Ninety-First Street, where Machado had lived for the past few months found him absent and servants said he had not been there for a week, departing early Wednesday for an unnamed destination.

FINDS UPTURN MOST MARKED

Survey Shows Economic Position Much More Favorable in Canada

TORONTO, April 25 (CP).—An economic position "more favorable than at any time since about mid-Summer of 1931" was reported today by The Financial Post in its quarterly survey of Canadian business. The first two figures of 1934 alone, the paper says, "were found for over 105,000 men and women. These figures crystallize just how far business recovery is making headway in this country."

The paper's index, based on forty-seven factors in business and industry, shows a gain of 31 per cent in the past year. Highest of last month's figures for individual industries as listed are:

OUTSTANDING FEATURES

Newspaper production greater than in any month since October, 1930; Reel production at a new high since May, 1931; automobile production at its highest point for a similar month since 1930; gold receipts at the mint at the highest point ever reached; copper exports surpassed in only three other months in the post-war period; electric power production at a record high.

With the two major exceptions of export wheat movement and new building permits, improvement was well distributed. In the case of building permits, the paper notes that while totals for the first quarter of 1934 were down, March permits were higher than those of March last year.

LONDON'S WINE TRADE HELPED BY REPEAL

LONDON, April 25 (CP-Havas).—Repeal of prohibition in the United States has had the effect of doubling the quantity of wine handled on the London docks, the Port of London authority today announced. During March, this year, 56,000 bottles were handled, last March the number was only 34,000.

Methusalem Not Taking a Chance

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 25 (AP).—Turkey's "Methusalem," Zoroaster, has declined to undergo a test to determine his age, fearing the experiment might detract from his fame as the world's oldest man.

No Move Toward Exclusion of Other Countries From China British Ambassador Is Told—Open Door to Remain Except for Traffic in Potential Military Materials

Chinese Minister Issues Statement From Nanking

TOKIO, April 25 (CP-Havas).—The question of Japan's policy toward China was "clarified" today by Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, during a friendly talk with Sir Francis Lindley, British Ambassador to Japan.

In response to the British request for a clarification of the foreign office spokesman's statement regarding China, Hirota told Sir Francis that although the spokesman's declaration was not official, it was nevertheless a clear enunciation of Japan's policy regarding China.

NOT FOR EXCLUSION

This policy, previously espoused by Hirota himself in a trenchant speech before the Imperial Diet, is not a move toward exclusion of Japan or other countries from China, Hirota asserted. The open door doctrine, guaranteed under the Nine-Power Treaty of 1922, is not affected, even by implication, except in so far as traffic in potential military materials is concerned, the Foreign Minister said.

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—The United Kingdom tonight eagerly scanned reports from Tokio that the British ambassador had been informed of the "hardly open China" declaration was a clear exposition of Tokyo Government policy, although unofficial at the time it was issued.

NO INFORMATION

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, was unable to give the House of Commons any information when he was questioned on the situation, described as an ominous one by leading newspapers. He said he would probably be some days before he would be able to present a report on the conversations between the British and Japanese Governments.

From Tokio It Was Learned

officially, however, that Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador bearing instructions from the British Government to define the British position and seek an explanation of various points, while reminding Japan of the joint obligations under the Nine-Power treaty, had had

SEEKS TRANSFER TO SOUTH AFRICA

Union Assembly May Send Note Asking for Transference of Three Protestators

CAPETOWN, South Africa, April 25 (CP via Reuters).—Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog tonight told the Union House of Assembly that the Government was considering sending the United Kingdom a note urging immediate transference of the three protestators to the South African Government.

The Prime Minister said the Government wished to secure transfer of the protestators of Bechuanaland, Basutoland and Swaziland, in accordance with the provisions of the South African Act that set up the Union.

Authoritative sources said the proposal was likely to arouse considerable controversy, as the native populations of the protestators have expressed preference for remaining under Imperial administration.

Economic Council Will Investigate B.C. Coal Problem

Decides on Special Study of Fuel Consumption as Immediate Work—Inaugural Meeting Considers Many-Sided Programme

IMMEDIATE steps to make a special study of the coal industry in British Columbia, was decided on by the new Economic Council, following a series of meetings here yesterday, it was announced by Professor W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the group. At morning, afternoon and evening sittings, the board considered a suggested programme of work laid before it by the chairman. Coal was selected as the British Columbia problem presenting the greatest difficulties from an employment standpoint at the present time.

The board will finish its inaugural meetings, today, but will convene again from time to time, Dr. Carrothers explained.

BOARD WELCOMED

Five of the seven members composing the panel were welcomed by Hon. George S. Pearson at the inaugural session in the morning. Dr. H. C. ## CONTINUE TO ASK FOR CONCESSIONS

Finance Minister Promises Careful Consideration of Pleas for Tax Relief

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—Delegations continue to haunt the offices of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, seeking concessions with respect to taxation and tariff announced in last week's budget. A large delegation of steel and coal men had a conference with the minister today, with respect to the reduced drawback on soft coal for manufacturing coke, while another delegation of steel men objected to the widened Empire preference on iron or steel plates.

The delegation representative of the Yukon Gold Company was introduced to the minister today by Hon. George Black, Speaker of the House of Commons, who represents the Yukon. They added their objections to the protests against the 10 per cent tax on gold.

Any changes the Government decides to make with respect to budget resolutions will be announced, as customary, in the House of Commons. Mr. Rhodes promised the Government's careful consideration of all representations.

Actor (to actor friend awaiting an operation): "Well, I must go now—cheer—best of luck on the opening night!"

NEEDS TO BE EXCEPTIONAL

Fiction Writer Must Know
Scene and How to Portray Character

Stating that the work of Canadian writers would be worked in Great Britain if they measured up to the particular standard which British publishers demanded nowadays, John Lane, member of the Bodley Head organization, London publisher, told a Colonist representative in the Empire Hotel lounge last evening that Canadian literature meant the author knowing his scene intimately and presenting his characters as if they really belonged to the environment they moved in.

The day had gone by when a writer could sit down in England and write an acceptable story about British Columbia. For instance, people knew too much about one another for anything like that at the present time. The modern organization of everything had brought the boundaries of fact and fiction in close touch. He felt sure that when he got through Canada he would know something about the way things were done, what some of our problems are, enough, anyway, he believed, to prevent a writer who didn't know his subject from putting something on the line.

"No, you don't need Old World settings to weave a tale," he said. "A complete novel could be written with no other setting than this. A small shack in the woods, the confined quarters of a ship, are all sufficient if you have the material for a story and can make your characters live like human beings."

EDUCATIONAL CHARACTER
The British trade, which was founded more than fifty years ago by an uncle of the present members of the publishing house, three brothers, does not publish much fiction, although Mr. Lane stated the firm liked it when it was good. Among the authors he expressed a fairly interest in was Ralph Connor. The more of the fiction, the more of the educational. They have a weakness for economic works, and intend to publish three volumes dealing with the Russian scene this summer. On his present tour, which has lasted for more than a year, Mr. Lane stated he was at the interest everyone is taking in economic matters. His firm publishes about 150 books of all kinds each year.

Mr. Lane stated he had left London a little over a year ago, and had been travelling continuously ever since, getting in close touch with people and business interests everywhere. Conditions were certainly on the mend both in Australia and New Zealand. He traveled to Honolulu on the M. S. Niagara, leaving the ship there and continuing to San Francisco aboard the S. S. Maposa. He was particularly struck with the confidence of the people of the Pacific Coast. They seemed to be highly hopeful that the Roosevelt policies would mean the rout of depression in the United States.

NOT CONFIRMED
MONTREAL, April 25 (CP).—A rumor that former President Machado, of Cuba, was returning to Montreal could not be confirmed tonight.

VETERANS OFFER TO SURRENDER CLAIMS
PARIS, April 25 (CP-Havas).—Numerous letters from veterans, offering to surrender their claims for disability and pensions have been received by Premier Doumergue. The Premier has personally written to thank them for their proffered help to the financial recovery of France.

ANOTHER WALKS OUT
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., April 25 (AP).—Another life convict, walked away from the Indiana State Prison here, last night, making a total of five prisoners to escape during the past few days.

WILL INVESTIGATE B.C. COAL PROBLEM

lowances during board sessions, and traveling expenses to and from Victoria. This is the same arrangement as made for the Industrial Relations Board, and more or less sets up a fixed standard of allowances for provincial voluntary boards.

The council convened first in the Liberal members room, but workmen hammering at repairs in the corridors drove them out to the quieter seclusion of the maple room, where afternoon and evening sittings continued. Any findings reached by the body will be reported first to the ministry, and all that has been decided so far, is that the board will study coal problems first.

Besides the official programme, the board is already inundated with scores of proposals from private individuals and organizations, many offering suggestions far beyond the range of provincial control.

OFFICIAL PROPOSALS
Official outline of the proposed activities of the council includes provision for an economic survey of agricultural lands, a survey of "marginal lands" occupied and unoccupied, a special study of the production and sale of milk in the Fraser Valley; a special study of production and sale of fruit in the Okanagan Valley; a special study of the mining industry of British Columbia, including gold mining in relation to use of the unemployed; base metals and their markets; and the coal inquiry.

A separate study is to be made of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway; and a special study of the effect of tariffs on industry and trade within the Province.

Under the heading of co-ordination, the council desires to co-ordinate "existing agencies for the furtherance of the well-being of the Province," these being Dominion, Provincial and university agencies for research and scientific investigation. Also under co-ordination the council would act as a clearing house for data gathered by local and special institutions, including farmers' institutes, agricultural groups, mine associations, and other special bodies.

WOULD CLASSIFY PEOPLE
A population survey is proposed, with "classification of the population by the Province, by age, by employment, skill, special training, etc., commencing with classification of the unemployed, and a gradual widening of this to include classification of all those gainfully employed.

In connection with the population survey, or census, there would be a study of living standards in the Province, including a study of social conditions, educational facilities, conditions of health, cultural and other opportunities.

Another study that is proposed is one of the financial condition of the people of the Province, to be applied particularly to rural and agricultural areas. This would involve a study of the condition of mortgages, and a survey of the position of tax payments, with special reference to tax delinquency.

TRADE REVIEWS
A further study outlined is that of markets, including a careful study of potential markets in British Columbia, in other provinces, and in foreign countries. The purchases of British Columbia elsewhere could be used as an instrument to increase sales of British Columbia products in those areas which sell goods to British Columbia," the board believes.

It is proposed, further, to study limited settlement areas, such as the Peace River block, to see where development has been uneconomic. A special study of the possibility of new settlement in the Prince George-Vanderhoof districts is also set out.

MANY PROPOSALS
Evidence that the public has not held aloof, is a flood of proposals to the board by private individuals and organizations, involving proposals ranging from the production of silk worms in the Okanagan Valley, to revamping the currency and credit of the world. The board refers to these submissions in the "Special Problems and Projects" section of its report.

Various problems and projects have been submitted by private citizens. These include the examination and analysis of a specific practical situation. The examination of them would be based on information obtained from the general surveys and special information obtained in the immediate circumstances.

Official outline of the proposed activities of the council includes provision for an economic survey of agricultural lands, a survey of "marginal lands" occupied and unoccupied, a special study of the production and sale of milk in the Fraser Valley; a special study of production and sale of fruit in the Okanagan Valley; a special study of the mining industry of British Columbia, including gold mining in relation to use of the unemployed; base metals and their markets; and the coal inquiry.

A separate study is to be made of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway; and a special study of the effect of tariffs on industry and trade within the Province.

Under the heading of co-ordination, the council desires to co-ordinate "existing agencies for the furtherance of the well-being of the Province," these being Dominion, Provincial and university agencies for research and scientific investigation. Also under co-ordination the council would act as a clearing house for data gathered by local and special institutions, including farmers' institutes, agricultural groups, mine associations, and other special bodies.

WOULD CLASSIFY PEOPLE
A population survey is proposed, with "classification of the population by the Province, by age, by employment, skill, special training, etc., commencing with classification of the unemployed, and a gradual widening of this to include classification of all those gainfully employed.

In connection with the population survey, or census, there would be a study of living standards in the Province, including a study of social conditions, educational facilities, conditions of health, cultural and other opportunities.

Another study that is proposed is one of the financial condition of the people of the Province, to be applied particularly to rural and agricultural areas. This would involve a study of the condition of mortgages, and a survey of the position of tax payments, with special reference to tax delinquency.

TRADE REVIEWS
A further study outlined is that of markets, including a careful study of potential markets in British Columbia, in other provinces, and in foreign countries. The purchases of British Columbia elsewhere could be used as an instrument to increase sales of British Columbia products in those areas which sell goods to British Columbia," the board believes.

It is proposed, further, to study limited settlement areas, such as the Peace River block, to see where development has been uneconomic. A special study of the possibility of new settlement in the Prince George-Vanderhoof districts is also set out.

MANY PROPOSALS
Evidence that the public has not held aloof, is a flood of proposals to the board by private individuals and organizations, involving proposals ranging from the production of silk worms in the Okanagan Valley, to revamping the currency and credit of the world. The board refers to these submissions in the "Special Problems and Projects" section of its report.

Various problems and projects have been submitted by private citizens. These include the examination and analysis of a specific practical situation. The examination of them would be based on information obtained from the general surveys and special information obtained in the immediate circumstances.

NEEDS TO BE EXCEPTIONAL

Fiction Writer Must Know
Scene and How to Portray Character

Stating that the work of Canadian writers would be worked in Great Britain if they measured up to the particular standard which British publishers demanded nowadays, John Lane, member of the Bodley Head organization, London publisher, told a Colonist representative in the Empire Hotel lounge last evening that Canadian literature meant the author knowing his scene intimately and presenting his characters as if they really belonged to the environment they moved in.

The day had gone by when a writer could sit down in England and write an acceptable story about British Columbia. For instance, people knew too much about one another for anything like that at the present time. The modern organization of everything had brought the boundaries of fact and fiction in close touch. He felt sure that when he got through Canada he would know something about the way things were done, what some of our problems are, enough, anyway, he believed, to prevent a writer who didn't know his subject from putting something on the line.

"No, you don't need Old World settings to weave a tale," he said. "A complete novel could be written with no other setting than this. A small shack in the woods, the confined quarters of a ship, are all sufficient if you have the material for a story and can make your characters live like human beings."

EDUCATIONAL CHARACTER
The British trade, which was founded more than fifty years ago by an uncle of the present members of the publishing house, three brothers, does not publish much fiction, although Mr. Lane stated the firm liked it when it was good. Among the authors he expressed a fairly interest in was Ralph Connor. The more of the fiction, the more of the educational. They have a weakness for economic works, and intend to publish three volumes dealing with the Russian scene this summer. On his present tour, which has lasted for more than a year, Mr. Lane stated he was at the interest everyone is taking in economic matters. His firm publishes about 150 books of all kinds each year.

Mr. Lane stated he had left London a little over a year ago, and had been travelling continuously ever since, getting in close touch with people and business interests everywhere. Conditions were certainly on the mend both in Australia and New Zealand. He traveled to Honolulu on the M. S. Niagara, leaving the ship there and continuing to San Francisco aboard the S. S. Maposa. He was particularly struck with the confidence of the people of the Pacific Coast. They seemed to be highly hopeful that the Roosevelt policies would mean the rout of depression in the United States.

CONVINCED HIS PLAN THE BEST

Italian Envoy Says Partial
Rearmament of Germany
Only Solution

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—The conviction that the only settlement of the disarmament controversy lies in the Italian plan for limiting armaments at present levels and permitting Germany a partial rearmament, was expressed tonight by Fulvio Suvich, Italian Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

"It is the only thing we can do," Premier Mussolini's foreign spokesman declared at the conclusion of three days of talks with British Ministers.

A USEFUL EXCHANGE
He expressed satisfaction "for the useful and friendly exchange of views," but insisted "it was not charged with any special mission."

Persistent reports from Hungarian sources here were current tonight that a revision of post-war treaties was the most important point discussed by the statesmen, but no comment was forthcoming from Suvich, a youthful and rising power in the first special envoy of the Italian Government to visit London since the war.

Affirming that economic protocols recently signed by Italy, Austria and Hungary were considered, he remarked that "it is very important to give Austria an outlet to the sea at Trieste," and that "as a shopping nation Britain is very much interested."

WINNIPEG, April 25 (CP).—The largest number of "bookies" to appear before the court at one time for many years, seventeen men were charged with keeping betting houses for the third time as a relief measure; to favor establishment of a silkwork industry in the Okanagan Valley; to study co-operative associations and how they work in mutual self-help; and, finally, to improve tourist traffic by legalizing sale of light wines and beer on licensed premises.

While the Industrial Relations Board produced orders for the regulation of logging and sawmill industries west of the Cascades within a week of its appointment, the Economic Council expects to take longer than that to find the answers to all of the questions asked. The council will approach first a study of those problems that have been provincially selected, with coal problems leading.

Marooned All Winter In North When Plane Crashed in the Bush

Three of Flying Party Lost Last August Come Out in Rebuilt Machine—Much Hardship Experienced in Zero Temperatures

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., April 25 (CP).—Marooned in the snowbound North all winter, after their airplane crashed August 21 last, in the remote upper half-way country near Cypress Creek, Captain C. A. Simmons, Mrs. Betty Rossbach, and Pilot John Bonnell, all of Chicago, have reached Dawson Creek in their rebuilt machine. Other members of the party, Paul Rossbach, Herman Hatfield, mechanic, and Alton Seaman, are still in the camp the party set up after its miraculous escape from death.

Taking the air trip with the announced object of "pleasure and adventure," the party had more of the latter than the former, gained for, it was revealed in a story told by Captain Simmons.

A COMPLETE WRECK

The party was exploring the possibilities of landing places on the banks of the "Tropical Valley" last August when the motor of the machine, built above Cypress Creek, B.C., was completely wrecked in the crash, but none of the party was injured.

After giving silent thanks for the miraculous escape, members of the party came to the realization that they would be marooned all winter and their first job was to build shelter for themselves and a hangar for the machine, which they decided to rebuild.

A three-roomed log cabin was built and a hangar and workshop, with sheets of mica for windows, erected. Furniture was all home-made and spruce boughs served for springs in the bunks.

A HARD WINTER

For thirty-five consecutive days in December and January the temperature hovered between 20 and 35 degrees below zero, and much hardship was experienced by the party. Before the snow became too deep, the party cleared a space of stumps and hills for a take-off field.

Home-made snowshoes and toboggans were fashioned from native spruce and birch, with babiche for strings. Food consisted largely of game meat. Flour, milk, sugar, tea and other supplies had to be taken in 250 miles by pack horses.

HUNDREDS SEE HOME GARDENS

Private Grounds Viewed by Citizens—Flower Show Will Open Tomorrow

Although weather conditions yesterday afternoon were not ideal for out-of-doors, several hundreds of Victoria citizens took advantage of the generous offer of private gardens owners to visit their gardens, which are now at their best.

It was through arrangements made by the officials of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association that the private gardens were opened to the general public, and those who take an interest in the development of foliage and flowers had an opportunity of viewing some of the finest private grounds on the island.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW

The afternoon's inspection was arranged by the association in connection with the Spring Flower Show, which will open at the Willows at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and continue until Saturday evening.

The show will include exhibits from all parts of the island, as far as Courtenay. The Courtenay association has sent in some exhibits, and other up-Island points are contributing to the competitive displays.

The entries this year are more numerous than at any other show ever staged by the Island association and great interest in exhibits is being shown by societies and Women's Institutes. The trade displays this year are exceptionally good.

JUDGING ON FRIDAY

Officials of the association announced last night that judging would commence on Friday morning, so as to have most of the awards shown on the individual exhibits before the opening hour. This will enable visitors to view the prize winners as soon as the doors are opened.

The exhibition is being held in the Agricultural Building, on the left-hand side of the main entrance to the Fair grounds. A short opening ceremony has been arranged, but just who will perform the ceremony has not been definitely decided.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon, at 1 o'clock, at McCall Bros' Funeral Home, after which the remains will be forwarded to Trail for interment. It is requested no flowers be sent.

Mourn Death of Miss J. Clark at Sooke Resident

Miss Janet Clark, aged eighty-three years, a resident of Sooke for the past nine years, passed away Tuesday, at her sister's home in the Sooke district. Miss Clark was born in Toronto, and lived in Trail for many years.

She is survived by two brothers, George Clark, of Nelson, and William, of Ymir, B.C., and two sisters, Mrs. Noble Binns, of Trail, and Mrs. Samuel Lundie, with whom she resided.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon, at 1 o'clock, at McCall Bros' Funeral Home, after which the remains will be forwarded to Trail for interment. It is requested no flowers be sent.

ALBION JOHNS LAID AT REST

Many Attend Funeral Services Conducted Here Yesterday Afternoon

Funeral services for the late Albion Johns, well-known and respected resident of Victoria for the last forty-six years, who passed away at the family home, 1276 Richardson Street, on Sunday, were held yesterday afternoon.

The service at the chapel, which commenced at 2:30 o'clock, was conducted by Rev. E. P. Church, pastor of Metropolitan United Church, and was attended by a large number of business and professional men and intimate friends of the late Mr. Johns. During the service two hymns were sung, "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages," and Mrs. S. M. Morton contributed vocal solo, "Sleep On, Beloved." Mr. Church read from Scripture and offered prayers of comfort to members of the family and bereaved relatives.

In a short address, Mr. Church said that one would have thought that after long years of retirement from business, Mr. Johns, like many others, would have been forgotten, but the large gathering of friends showed the love and respect in which he was held in the community. "This is not a time for sorrow or grief. We sorely miss our brother, but we must remember he has been released from long suffering and we know that his spirit is with the Father."

Mr. Church referred to the Christian character of the late Mr. Johns and paid a high tribute to his work in the community in which he had spent nearly a half a century.

At the conclusion of the service, the cortege proceeded to Ross Bay Cemetery, where interment took place. The pallbearers were all old friends of the family, namely, G. D. Christie, George Ledingham, F. Burridge, Dr. S. G. Clemence, Walter E. Stenaland, and H. S. Pringle.

FLORAL TRIBUTES

Many floral tributes were sent by friends, relatives and acquaintances and included those from Mr. and Mrs. F. Lester, Clifford, Lillian and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ledingham, Misses, Dr. S. G. Clemence, Walter E. Stenaland, and H. S. Pringle; Mr. and Mrs. Morton and family; Charles, Blanche and Lilian; Sister Jewell, Bella and Edward; The Crystal Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic King, the Gilliland family, Rev. Dr. W. J. Davey, Brother Samuel, and family; Norman W. Whitaker, M.P.P.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons and family; pupils of Division VI, George Jay School; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. ## PLEA MADE FOR EAST INDIANS

Poppy Heads Case Is Before Court—Mr. Justice Murphy Reserves Decision

Mr. Justice Murphy, in the Supreme Court here, yesterday, heard argument on a habeas corpus proceeding taken by Stuart Henderson to secure the liberty of the three East Indians, Beru, Ditto and Sohan Singh, who had been convicted, last October, on charges of violating the Narcotic Drugs Act in having poppy heads in their possession. Judgment was reserved by His Lordship. The men are out on bail and since their conviction by Magistrate Jay in the city police court and in the Saanich court have had their cases under review in the Supreme Court in the form of a habeas corpus. When the appeal was dismissed, R. A. Wootton appeared on behalf of the Crown in connection with the case, yesterday, having a plea of guilty in the case of the three East Indians.

PRELIMINARY OBJECTION

Mr. Henderson took a preliminary objection to the order of commitment which the men were held and which had been signed by the police magistrate. He felt that following the later proceedings taken in the Supreme Court there would have been a commitment order by the Supreme Court judge. This was held by Mr. Wootton to be unnecessary.

On the merits of the case, Mr. Henderson argued that poppy heads were not included under the heading of drugs. He contended that the article was not a narcotic, but a vegetable product, and that the act to which it was against the law to possess. This did not include the case.

"NOT REAL ANALYSIS"

He further took the position that the Government analyst who made the examination for the R.C.M.P. had not made a real analysis of the heads.

This was the first case of its kind where poppy heads had been held to fall within the meaning of the act. Mr. Henderson claimed the magistrate had decided to give himself jurisdiction in the matter which he was not entitled to do.

WAS WITHIN RIGHTS

Mr. Wootton argued that the magistrate was well within his rights in the course he had taken. The proceedings by way of habeas corpus were not the proper course to pursue to cure what Mr. Henderson argued was wrong. That could be done only by an appeal and when such was taken it was dismissed.

Mr. Wootton said that the poppy heads were used to make a tea which was found by the analyst to contain large quantities of morphine. The poppy heads were grown to get the morphine in this form. Morphine was morphine no matter where it was found in combination, and it was against the law to use it.

CHINESE MAKING BID FOR TOURIST

Leaders Planning to Make Chekiang Playground Province With Foreign-Style Accessories

SHANGHAI, April 25 (CP).—Chekiang Province, which lies just a few miles south of Shanghai, is to be made the "playground of China," according to plans fostered by General Chiang Kai-shek and other Government leaders.

Hanchow, one of the most beautiful cities in China, which is situated on the banks of the Yangtze River, is only 121 miles from Shanghai by train, and is now about 140 miles away by an automobile road opened last autumn.

On June 1, this motor road will be connected with 600 miles of new roads branching from Hanchow in six different directions. These roads will reach scenic districts of great beauty—mountainous and wooded areas of streams and lakes. It is planned to build six tourist hotels along these roads, with excellent foreign style accommodations.

It is announced that special gendarmes, speaking English, will be trained for police duty along the new highways, so that, in case foreigners have accidents, there will be no "collisions" with Chinese authorities speaking no foreign languages. At Hanchow, a mile race track is being built, and a tricky eighteen-hole golf course is being laid out.

STOPS CUTTING ON FARM LANDS

Injunction Granted to Prevent Felling Timber on Land on Salt Spring Island

An injunction was granted on the application of P. J. Sinnott, in the Supreme Court here, yesterday, against C. W. Barker, to prevent his cutting timber on the property of James Muldoon, a farmer on Salt Spring Island. The injunction granted by Mr. Justice Murphy will extend until 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning, when a new application will have to be made if further action is required.

His Lordship expressed his unwillingness to grant an injunction of this kind for any length of time where only the one side was represented. He suggested that early opportunity should be taken to serve the other side with notice. Mr. Sinnott said that the injunction would be delivered to the other side.

Mr. Sinnott was not in a position to give particulars other than that it was alleged that, without leave, wood was being cut on the farm lands of his client.

FIXES DATE OF SHIP'S SINKING

Court Orders Ss. Chasina Considered Lost in Storm Off China Coast

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—Believed to have foundered in a typhoon off the China coast, Ss. Chasina, according to an order made in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, was lost between September 25, 1931, and November 30, 1931.

The time was fixed at the request of A. Bruce Robertson, counsel for Royal Trust Company, which represents Mrs. Marguerite E. Liddle, of Berkeley, Calif., widow of Stanley Clayton Liddle. The latter was second engineer on the Chasina, which left Macao on September 25 for Ensenada, Mexico, with a cargo of contraband, it is alleged.

Mr. Robertson explained that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police invoked the aid of the China Squadron of the British Navy to find the Chasina.

The Chasina was to have met a contact ship a thousand miles off the California coast. The contact ship waited at the rendezvous sixteen days.

SECOND ORDER GRANTED

On March 3, 1933, Chief Justice Morrison made an order, presuming Liddle's death. A second order was required to enable Mrs. Liddle to recover her $50 payments which she had made on her husband's life insurance policy since his disappearance. The insurance company refused to refund the premiums if the time of death was established as since September 25 and before November 30.

The Chasina, according to report, was loaded to capacity when she cleared from Hongkong and Macao. She had altered her appearance by a white back over the bow.

She was a 139-ton craft, 141 feet long and operated in the coastal service here for many years as Selma and Santa Cecilia.

Warr officiating in the presence of many relatives and sympathizing friends, during which the hymns "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" were sung. A delegation from the I.O.O.F. Lodge were also present.

The following acted as pallbearers: R. A. C. Dewar, O. Smith, V. Dempsey, J. E. Huxtable, W. H. Gibson and J. W. Van Norman.

The I.O.O.F. service at the graveside was conducted by Brother R. R. Foubister, noble grand, assisted by Brother David Dewar, acting chaplain of Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I.O.O.F.

The remains were laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

MACMILLAN REPORT PROVES FAIR SELLER

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP).—While the Macmillan report on banking and commerce was not a "best seller," as was the case with the report on a similar subject Lord Macmillan made for the British Government in 1931, it sold sufficiently to cover printing expenses, which is not the case with many Government publications.

Information on the cost of the Macmillan Commission was tabled in the Senate, showing the total at $30,883. Transportation cost, $4,435; stenographers, $9,261, and printing, $2,457. All the latter item was recovered through sales of the printed report.

Will Expand B.C. Hop Industry to Meet New Demand

Due mainly to the increase in the demand for hops in Great Britain and the United States, additional acreage has been placed under cultivation at Sardin, where about 350 acres are already hop producing. It was stated here, yesterday, by John I. Haas, president of the United States Hop Growers' Association, that the industry in Canada and the United States was exceptionally bright. In United States, he said, breweries were working overtime to supply the demand for beer. Apart from the domestic demand, the Canadian industry was finding a good market in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Haas is a frequent visitor to the capital city, and says he would like to settle down here when he is in a position to get away from his business interests in Washington.

Mr. Robertson explained that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police invoked the aid of the China Squadron of the British Navy to find the Chasina.

Richard Rawlinson Is Progressing Favorably

Richard Rawlinson, 1442 Hillside Avenue, who suffered a fractured skull and cuts about the face in a motor accident, Tuesday night, and now lies in St. Joseph's Hospital, was reported as progressing favorably late last night. Dr. Gordon Kenning is in attendance.

The accident occurred when Mr. Rawlinson's car skidded on the wet pavement of North Quadra Street, near Rilliet's Hill, and crashed into a side ditch. The driver was thrown through the windshield.

ANNEXATION IS OPPOSED

Saanich Association Wants Plebiscite Before Wards Join With Victoria

In an effort to have Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, defer any action on the annexation of the Saanich Peninsula to the suggestion that Victoria annex Saanich Ward Two and Seven, Saanich Ward Two Non-Political Ratepayers' Association last night appointed a delegation to work in conjunction with other ward association officials to this end.

The delegation is composed of O. B. Ormond, John Haywood, C. H. Underwood, president of the association, and F. Lancaster.

The move was made after W. J. Waters, prominent in Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association circles, had made a stirring appeal to the taxpayers in Ward Two to oppose the measure. The measure received the entire support of the association.

"The city is no doubt anxious for us to come in so we can help pay their taxes," declared Mr. Underwood. "However, I feel that a plebiscite is necessary before this could go into effect," he stated.

"That's where you are wrong," Mr. Waters maintained. "Under the S.P.A. those fellows can do what they like with us; no plebiscite is necessary. We must band together and have the minister explain to us what advantages there would be in joining the city. Then we, as a delegation, can tell him where he is wrong."

He outlined various moves made to annex the wards to Victoria and told how they had all failed. Mr. Waters recalled the annexation of Saanich when all those who wished something went out and did it themselves. He urged the citizens to get out and fight for their own rights and "freedom."

TO ELIMINATE GARBAGE DUST

Thomas E. Lancaster, City Sanitary Inspector, Prepares Reports

Thomas E. Lancaster, city sanitary inspector, is preparing for submission to the health committee of the City Council, two plans for the elimination of dust nuisance at the garbage wharf.

These reports are being made as a result of a complaint from Scott & Peden's store, on Store Street. This firm complained that several tugboat owners had threatened to give up coming to the firm's docks to deliver merchandise because of the dust from the garbage wharf getting into the tug's machinery, and also the food, when served to the crew.

Mr. Lancaster has two proposals. One is that the old barn, formerly used by horses when they drew the garbage carts, be changed so that the garbage trucks can unload their refuse onto the scow under cover.

The other proposal is that of establishing garbage pits in various parts of the city, somewhat in the manner as was done in connection with the Victoria High School grounds, but in a more systematic and sanitary manner. These pits, when filled, could be covered with soil and used for tennis courts or playing greens. Mr. Lancaster points out in his report.

Joseph Cameron Named President Of Hi-Y Society

Joseph Cameron was elected president of the Hi-Y Club, last night, at the annual meeting. Following the installation ceremony conducted by the retiring president, T. W. Chapman, secretary's report, assumed the chair.

Other officers elected were: Thomas Perry, vice-president; Ernest Bishop, secretary, and Robert Drummond-Hay, treasurer.

During the past year, the Hi-Y Club programme was an active one, the reports showed. The statements presented were: Devotional committee report, by Thomas Leeming; conference committee report, by T. W. Chapman; secretary's report, by David Tuck; and treasurer's report, by Lorne McGregor.

The club is comprised of high school youths whose object is to maintain a high moral code in the ranks of their fellow students.

ORCHESTRA IS WELL RECEIVED

George J. Dyke and Plectral Instrumentalists Are Accorded Ovation

If public enthusiasm is the only standard by which an artist can gauge the measure of his success, then the Oak Bay Plectral Orchestra, conducted by George J. Dyke, should feel greatly gratified with its performance in the Centennial United Church last night.

Three encores were demanded by a most insistent audience, while the orchestra on two other occasions rose to take a bow after the encores had been given.

Mr. Dyke should feel highly pleased with last night's reception, for the ovation was as much a tribute to his directing as to the co-ordinated efforts of the individual members of the ensemble.

The programme of music was well chosen. There were no classical studies, yet nothing but classics were played. They were of the more melodic type, and consequently had greater appeal.

CONDUCTING GOOD

In his conducting, Mr. Dyke is to be commended for the assurance with which he wielded the baton. His decisiveness was most pronounced, while even the audience could interpret the meaning of the sweep of his arm. It was the type of conducting that an adjudicator at a Victoria musical festival two years ago appealed for among choral conductors.

Included among the numbers played by the orchestra was a composition by Percy Scott, a member of the ensemble. It was entitled "Lieutenant-Governor's March," and had been dedicated to the present Lieutenant-Governor.

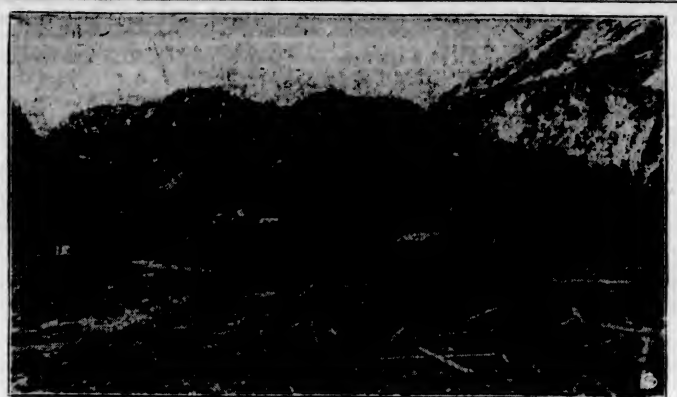

Mr. Dyke, at the end of the concert, was the centre of a circle of congratulatory members of the audience, who were pleasantly surprised with what could be done with plectral instruments.

There were several assisting artists on the programme; their renditions, too, were well received. There was not one artist who did not receive an encore. They were: Frank Partlow, tenor; M. H. C. Fraser, contralto; Alec W. Semple, elocutionist, and Mrs. Paul Green, organist.

Big Attendance at First Day of Musical Festival

NANAIMO, April 25.—Large crowds from different island points attended all sessions of the Upper-Island Musical Festival, which opened here this morning for a four-day session.

There are some 1,500 competitors listed, which includes choirs in all classes.

The vocal adjudications are in the hands of Dr. Ernest MacMillan, B.A., director of the Conservatory of Music, Toronto.

Professor F. G. C. Woods, of Vancouver, will choose the winners for elocution and music. Bruce Cave, of New Westminster, is judge for the folk dancing classes.

Competition of junior choirs was a feature of the first afternoon's session. St. Andrew's Choir won the shield with 170 marks; Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, was second, with 160, and Mrs. Kate Brankston's choir of Nanaimo, third, with 158.

Other results were as follows: Elocution—boys under thirteen years, Howard Nicholson, 81; Eric Dakin, 79; Douglas Bunt, 77. Vocal trio, under nineteen, won by Kate Mansson, Margaret Chappelow and Kathleen Johnson, 82.

Boys' vocal solo—Edmund McGlennan, 83; Lloyd Bertram, 79. Piano duet, under fourteen years, Ellen Silver and Thora Walker, Port Alberni, 80; Adele Dunsmore and Mary Foster (Nanaimo), 77.

COUNCILLOR IS GIVEN SUPPORT

Saanich Municipal Body Played for Treatment of Ward Two Representative

Although no formal move to back him up was made, Councillor E. C. Warren, Saanich Council representative from Ward Two, has the complete support of Saanich Ward Two Non-Political Ratepayers' Association, that body intimated, last night, in Gladstone School.

The association's endorsement of Councillor Warren's policy until a later date, but will swing behind him to the best of their ability at the earliest chance.

"He's apparently a black sheep while the rest of the councillors are white sheep," declared P. Bevan, a member. "However much he might wish to assist the council, he is always backed by the council, according to his own statements," the speaker continued.

"The only man who gives him any support is Councillor L. C. Hagan, of Ward Five," Mr. Bevan averred. "We should do something to show the council that he has our full support."

"We have no vital issue at stake that would warrant a letter to the council," President G. H. Underwood stated. "It was pointed out that the best policy would be to 'back the councillor to the limit the next time he gets locked on a vital matter.' This course of action was adopted."

What Today Means

"TAURUS" If April 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 4 to 6 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m.

In your social or business contacts on this date, be careful that neither religious nor racial prejudices are allowed to motivate any of your actions. You will be far more successful if you maintain a liberal attitude regarding the mental reactions of some of your acquaintances.

If born on April 26 and a woman, do not get into the habit of being aloof when friends seek your companionship. You will find life far easier and happier if temperamental explosions are not indulged in. Avoid becoming involved in controversies. It is at times a good policy to let the other person do all the talking, while you listen and keep your lips closed tight. Arguments can be avoided and broken friendships prevented if care is exercised when a person with a chip on their shoulder tries to start a controversy. Life is entirely too short to devote any part of it to senseless wrangles.

The child born on April 26, as it grows up, must be made to realize the importance of being considerate of the feelings of others. Never allow it to indulge in personalities. It should be taught a lack of politeness is in reality a reflection on its parents. Bad manners are usually the result of overindulgence, and if not corrected when a child is young becomes characteristic when they grow up.

The woman born on April 26 is

LANDED JOB BY NEAT ARGUMENT

Lord Riddell Tells How Sir Edward Young Managed to Obtain Admiralty Position

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—England today was laughing at the story of how Sir Edward Young, Minister of Health, who lost an arm in the 1918 raid on Zeebrugge, got a post-war job with the Admiralty.

The story was told Tuesday in a speech by Lord Riddell, Sir Edward, Lord Riddell said, came back from active service and sought a position with the Admiralty only to be told there was "no room for a one-armed man."

"Sir Edward," he said, retorted: "Well, come with me to Trafalgar Square, and I'll show you a one-armed man who did great things for England."

That, concluded Lord Riddell, was too much "even for the Admiralty," and one of his chiefs replied: "If you are another Nelson we will take you on."

DIRECT FOR OTTAWA

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—Hon. Herbert M. Marier, Canadian Minister to Japan, and Mrs. Marier left here today via Canadian National Railways for Ottawa. They planned no stop-overs en route East.

TACTLESS

Jones was nothing if not gallant, but, unfortunately, he always said the wrong thing, and was, therefore, constantly getting himself into hot water.

One day Jones was among the number of guests who were being entertained to dinner at the Browns'. It was a known fact that Mrs. Brown was the same age as her husband, but she went to great lengths to conceal it.

During the meal the conversation turned to the question of age. "By the way," Mrs. Jones said, "Mrs. Brown, guessingly, 'my husband is just fifty, you know. You would hardly credit that there is ten years difference in our ages.'"

"Impossible," interposed Jones. "I'm sure you look quite as young as he does."

It is never too late to learn, declares a writer. Every man who arrives home after midnight can testify to the accuracy of this statement.

WOMAN HIKER DIES IN STORM

Overcome at Night in Wild Part of Cumberland Lake District

WASDALE HEAD, England, April 25 (CP).—The body of an experienced woman hiker, Miss Marion Bartle, thirty-five, victim of a wild storm in one of the most inaccessible parts of the Cumberland Lake district, was found today after her sister, Clara, forty-one, had staggered to a farm here and collapsed. The latter managed to make her way to the farm early today, and before collapsing, she cried: "My sister is lying dead out on the pass."

The two left their home in Southport on Monday for a walking tour of the lake district. They left Duncheon Ghyll in heavy rain to descend to Wasdale Head.

The storm increased in violence as night drew on and they attempted to retrace their steps, but Marion collapsed. Her sister covered her with a raincoat and set out alone to seek help.

After going half a mile Clara Bartle's torchlight failed and she returned to her sister, whom she found in a dying condition. She attempted to revive her by sheltering her body from the storm and cold with her own, but Marion died within a few hours.

Clara remained with the body of her sister for the remainder of the night, and, when dawn broke, sobbing and exhausted herself, she made her way down the pass to Wasdale.

Shepherds formed a stretcher party later and brought the body here.

OFFICERS NAMED BY LIBERAL CLUB

G. A. Renton Is Re-elected Head of Victoria West Liberal Social Organisation

G. A. Renton was elected president of the Victoria West Liberal Social Club at the annual meeting held in the new clubrooms, 414 Skinner Street, Tuesday evening. Ex-Alderman W. H. Kinman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, was elected honorary president, and Major S. Hansen, president of the Ward One Liberal Association, was chosen honorary vice-president.

Other officers elected were: W. E. Graham, vice-president; G. F. Randall, secretary-treasurer, and K. T. Stimmora, F. Watson and J. Foyer, members of the executive committee.

Major Hansen occupied the chair while the election of officers took place. He commended the club for the support it had given the Ward One Liberal Association, and said he fully expected that the same support would be given in the future, particularly when the new committee rooms were established.

THANKS MEMBERSHIP

Mr. Renton thanked the membership for re-electing him head of the organization, and also thanked all those who supported the weekly dance held by the organization. It was through such support that the society was able to operate a basketball team, two juvenile roller skate hockey teams, a junior girls' softball team and a junior boys' baseball team. The organization hoped in the near future to form a senior baseball team and a swimming group.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, and an enjoyable social hour was spent.

From a divorce report: "Mr. M. declared that he hadn't been married a month before she asked him to do the housework."

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie Extends Greetings to St. Mark's Members.

Dr. William Tolmie, early pioneer of Saanich, in 1882 gave from his Cloverdale farm the ground on which was built St. Mark's Anglican Church. Last night, forty-two years after, his son, Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, stood in the church's parish hall and extended greetings to the church on its anniversary. He spoke of the fine work done by the church and the congregation during the past forty-two years.

During his reminiscences, Dr. Tolmie paid a high tribute to the late William Graham, one of the earliest settlers of the district. He explained the district came into being fifty-five years ago, when his father sub-divided a large section of the historic farm. Amusing stories of the "home and buggy days" were then told by the speaker, who also recalled in a whimsical manner his daily long walks, when a small boy from the old farmhouse to Central School on View Street.

Dr. Tolmie said he had seen many changes in the country.

"LET US MOVE SLOWLY"

"British Columbia will be what we make it," asserted the speaker in addressing the younger members of the congregation. "With these coming changes, let us move slowly," he cautioned, "and act in a similar manner to the Old Country."

"Our country is one of the best places to be in good times, and there are worse places in bad times," he concluded.

The anniversary celebrations commenced in the morning with Holy Communion, to which many members of the parish gathered with Rev. Owen L. Jull, rector.

MEMBERS HONORED

During the tea period, which followed an afternoon of card playing, honor was done Mrs. C. A. Goodwin, Mrs. W. Graham, Mrs. Printer, Mrs. J. H. Hughes, J. J. Wilson and C. A. Goodwin, old-time members of the church. To the women were presented bouquets, while the men were given other floral decorations.

Two hundred parishioners crowded into the church hall last night to attend the "parochial birthday party." The hall was gaily decorated with flowers. Many games were enjoyed and later dancing was indulged in.

Teacher: "Now, Robert, what are you doing with that something?" Robert: "No, sir! I'm listening to you."

PERSISTENT RUMORS

Rumors have persisted here and in the provinces that Left extremists planned a general strike in protest against the amnesty law. At the same time reports circulated that Rightists might attempt a coup d'etat in the present mood of agitation.

Before dawn this morning directors of the General Workers' Union hastily met and formed ranks to attack the Rightist headquarters, but were stopped when the rumors of the proposed coup were declared baseless.

Both Rightist and Leftist elements were among those demanding the resignation of the president. Some Rightist leaders insisted openly that Foreign Minister Santiago Alba assume the presidency in the event of a resignation and call an election of a new president within eight days, as provided by the constitution.

With spring comes pains and aches, and tired, languid feelings. You lack energy and vigor. Have digestive troubles and do not sleep well. You can depend on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food To put iron in the blood, To make the blood rich and red and restore the tired nerves. The functions of the vital organs of the body are strengthened and quickened by this treatment. Because it builds up new nerve force. Prove this for yourself by using it.

Ward Association in Saanich Seeks Provincial Patrol as Election Issue

Ward Two Saanich Non-Political Ratepayers' Association, is determined to make the Provincial Police patrol of the municipality a vital election matter, since at last night's meeting in Cloverdale School, the association petitioned the municipal council to have the matter placed before taxpayers as a plebiscite next year.

C. H. Underwood, president, declared that even with the police commission's explanation of the matter, he was not satisfied that the present system of police administration is cheaper than the service offered by the British Columbia officers.

THROWS MONKEY WRENCH
The revenue threw in that statement of the Mount Police coming here to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery," stated Mr. Underwood. "It is apparent they do not want Provincial Police."

Mr. Underwood explained that the whole provincial system in Saanich, had been informed of the recent police board meeting, but owing to the lateness which they received the information, neither himself nor Wilkinson thought it wise to attend.

Mr. Wilkinson's scheme was to have British Columbia police patrol the municipality, since the municipality has a saving of some $5,000 would be affected by the move. The municipal commission, at its last meeting, refused this statement, and bitterly opposed ousting the present system in favor of Government police.

for the bill, referring to it as the salvation of primary producers in Canada.

The three principles of the bill, Mr. Willis stated, were to insure orderly marketing and thereby bring better prices to the producer; to prevent speculation and exploitation; and to provide machinery for removing any surplus from local markets which would tend to reduce prices.

The bill did not provide for the restriction of production or for price fixing.

RULED FROM RECORD

Reading an editorial from The Ottawa Citizen criticizing Liberal policies, Mr. Willis concluded his speech. Mr. Speaker Black ordered the editorial references stricken from Hansard on the ground it had been against the rules of the House to read such editorials when the speaker referred to was before Parliament.

Mr. Willis and J. L. Bowman (Conservative, Dauphin), protested and Mr. Speaker said he would give the matter further consideration and if he changed it, he would communicate to the House.

Mr. Perley said the reports he had from Saskatchewan showed the bill was being very favorably received. The pools, co-operative organizations and the grain trade favored the action which the Government was taking. He had talked with heads and representatives of these organizations.

Junior Musical Artists Offer Fine Programme

Chamber Music Is Monthly Offering of Talented Group — Compositions of Famous Composers Interpreted by Instrumental and Solo Numbers

Presenting an exceptionally high class programme of vocal and instrumental classics that for originality of style amply demonstrated the ability of the artists, in individual and group numbers, the Junior Musical Society entertained members and friends of the Junior Musical Arts Society at the New Thought Temple last evening.

The recital was delightfully informal and gave plenty of latitude to the soloists and instrumentalists to interpret the compositions selected for the evening. The audience was not large, as it was confined mainly to members of the Junior Musical Arts, but the programme was of high quality, giving ample room for embellishment. Both were very cleverly executed. Her encore was, "I Were a Bird" (Hensel).

The second number was a string quintet, "Op. 29" (Beethoven) with two violins, two violas and cello. This group was composed of Mrs. B. Bennett, Mrs. F. Leader, Mrs. A. W. R. Wilby, Mrs. J. Wilkinson and J. H. Hinton.

Miss Nora Jones, one of Victoria's most accomplished and entertaining singers, contributed Elizabethan songs with quartette accompaniment, composed of the following: Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Leader, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Hinton.

ASSISTING ARTISTS

The Chamber Society was assisted by Miss Nora Jones, contralto, accompanied by Miss Owen Harper, pianist; Smyth Humphreys, violinist, accompanied by Miss Maquinn Daniels, and members of the Junior group.

The programme opened with two piano solos by Miss Owen Harper: "Gavotte" (Gluck-Brahm) and "Fantasia" (Händel), the former a lively, yet dignified piece of the classic suite, and the latter a roving collection of airs with interludes giving ample room for embellishment. Both were very cleverly executed. Her encore was, "I Were a Bird" (Hensel).

The second number was a string quintet, "Op. 29" (Beethoven) with two violins, two violas and cello. This group was composed of Mrs. B. Bennett, Mrs. F. Leader, Mrs. A. W. R. Wilby, Mrs. J. Wilkinson and J. H. Hinton.

Miss Nora Jones, one of Victoria's most accomplished and entertaining singers, contributed Elizabethan songs with quartette accompaniment, composed of the following: Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Leader, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Hinton.

One of the most pleasing numbers on the programme was the string quartette in "D Major" (Mozart), played by Miss K. Bancroft, Mrs. Wilby, Miss Mary Philip and Mr. Hinton.

Giving Home for Musicals Bazaar Held

Most successful from every point of view was the bazaar held yesterday at St. Ann's Academy and a large crowd attended both in the afternoon and evening.

The stalls were decorated in a variety of color and design and there was ample attraction in the way of amusements and games of all sorts.

The affair was opened by Hon. A. Wells Gray, who heartily congratulated the Sisters of St. Ann upon the appearance of the bazaar and wished them every possible success in their undertaking. His Worship the Mayor and Alderman James Adam also brought greetings and Rev. Father Evans said a few words at the opening of the bazaar.

The candy stall, arranged in a color scheme of pink and white, at which the assistants were charming Dutch costumes, was in charge of Miss Alice Baines, Miss Bernadette Colbert, the convener, assisted by Misses Viola Trueman, Kathleen Abbott, Mary Grant, Rosette Lee, Eileen O'Neill and Patricia Walsh. The fancywork stall, on which aprons, bags, dresses and other dainty articles were displayed, was in charge of Sister Mary Lucy and Sister Mary Antonia.

RELIGIOUS ARTICLES

The stall of religious articles was under the supervision of Sister Mary Esther and Sister Mary Daniel, novices were sold by the Children of Mary, under the direction of Sister Mary Patricia.

At the home-cooking stall, which was soon depleted of its tempting wares, were members of the Victoria Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. George Fraser, Mrs. M. E. O'Neill, Mrs. H. D. Scallan and Mrs. J. D. Kinsinger and Sister Marie Coeur de Jesus.

"Bingo" was most popular during the day, and the Knights of Columbus did valiant service in managing the game. The Esquimalt Subdivision, Catholic Women's League, were the tea convener.

Pennants of "St. Ann's" and "St. Joseph's" were sold by Sister Mary Artemia and the fish pond was in charge of the Guardian Angel Society.

The following prize winners were announced last night: Doll's name, guessing contest, (Eileen), won by Mayor Leeming; $10 prize to M. E. Clarke, 501 Government Street; embroidered centerpiece, Eileen Dunn, R.D. 4, Gordon Head; pastel picture, St. Mary's Hospital, Dawson, Y.T.; electric lamp, J. Little Doris had been rude to one of the guests, and mother was reprimanding her for her lapse.

"You know, Doris," she said, with feeling, "I've tried so hard to make you a good little girl. I've taught you to be polite and kind, and yet, in spite of my efforts, look what has happened."

"Oh, mother," said Doris, deeply moved, "what a failure you are."

Little Bedtime Stories

The Rats Plan to Kill Billy Mink

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"I'm not afraid," said one.

It having been agreed by all the rats in the big barn that they would stand by each other, and the next time Billy Mink appeared would all attack him at once, they immediately began to feel better. Only the oldest ones shook their heads doubtfully and continued to look worried. They not driven away the cat which the farmer had put in the barn to catch them? And was not the cat very much bigger than this new enemy. They began to talk among themselves of the fun they would have when Billy Mink should next appear.

"I'm not afraid," said one.

"Nor I," cried another. And all the rest of the young rats boasted in the same way.

But the gray, old leader still shook his head and looked worried. "It is all very well for you to brag of what you will do," said he, "but bragging never yet won a battle. If we would keep our homes here in this big barn where many of you have spent your lives, we must make our plans to kill this terrible enemy. It will not do to simply drive him away, for he might return when least expected. Always there must be two or three on watch. The instant that mink appears warning must be given, and then all of us fall on him at once."

"As I told you before, the best fighter among us would be helpless if he had to face that fellow alone. But if we all attack him together there will be nothing to fear."

So certain of the sharpest-eyed rats were appointed to watch all the holes through which Billy Mink might enter the barn. When it should become necessary for them to go hunt for food other rats were to take their place. All the others scattered to their homes. Some

Those Nasty Little Pimples

Thousands suffer untold misery from the knowledge that these blemishes make them disgusting to those with whom they come in contact. They worry, day after day, wondering how they can get their skin cleared up. The way is to use Burdock Blood Bitters, a remedy that drives out the impurities from the blood, and when this is done the complexion is left without the sign of a pimple.

Mr. Dilworth Describes Vicarious Travel Trip

One of the most delightful addresses given under the auspices of the Empire Study Group of Connaught Chapter, I.O.D.E., was enjoyed last evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. Nichol, Rockland Avenue, when Mr. Ira Dilworth, principal of the Victoria High School, was the speaker.

The subject itself was a most fascinating one, "My Discovery of the British Isles," and presented by one who, though never having actually visited its shores, has an unusually deep appreciation of all that constitutes its greatness. In whimsical vein, Mr. Dilworth carried his listeners to the islands beyond the seas, the knowledge of which he owes to literature. He explained that he "was an explorer of lands of delight over whom time and space had no authority." His first sense of love for the British Isles he attributed to his grandmother, and this centered about Ireland. He went on to speak of Irish superstitions, the humor and loquaciousness of the Irish peasant and general characteristics.

IN ENGLAND

Through the eyes of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Burns, he learned of the history and the natural life of Scotland. His introduction to England had been made through her poets and novelists, rather than through historians, and his "acquaintance" dated as far back as Chaucer's time, continuing through the Arthurian Legends, the Romantics to present days.

To such characters as Mr. Pickwick, Dr. Johnson, Addison, and Sir Roger de Coverley, the speaker was "shown" London, and it was to the Lake poets, Wordsworth, Shelley and Keats, that he owed his deep love for the flowers, birds and rural beauty of England. Shakespeare had been his most valued guide on all his "voyages of discovery." Extracts from works of Mary Webb and Thomas Hardy illustrated Mr. Dilworth's references to the modern England of literature. In conclusion he urged his listeners, as Daughters of the Empire, to do their utmost to safeguard the literature of Great Britain, which was the rightful heritage of the children of the future.

Mrs. Nichol very charmingly expressed the appreciation of all the members as she moved the vote of thanks to Mr. Dilworth, for his address. Mrs. Nichol also referred to a concert, to be given under the auspices of the chapter, at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hunter, on Monday evening.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HEALING STOMACH AND INTESTINAL ULCER BY ALKALIES

It would be interesting to know just how many individuals are afflicted with hyperacidity (too much stomach acid in the stomach juice), and tendency to ulcer of the stomach and of the first part of the small intestine into which the stomach empties its contents. It is known that thin, nervous, high-strung, overanxious individuals are considered the "right type" for peptic ulcer, as it is called. Practically every one of us, who has gone through a "nervous ordeal" knows the "acid" feeling, because it is these emotional disturbances that increase the acidity of the stomach.

It is for this reason that our old reliable baking soda (bicarbonate of soda) is the first thought in an upset stomach due to an upset mind. There are many thousands of individuals who have baking soda, or other alkali at home, in the office, or carry it always with them in order to overcome this acid feeling. And in the treatment of peptic ulcer the first or important part of the treatment is the use of an alkali in some form. What is known as the Sippy treatment calls for the use of frequent soft or liquid meals followed by an alkali. As the main idea in treatment is to keep ahead of the great amount of acid stomach digestive juice by supplying plenty of alkali, Dr. Asher Winkelsstein in the American Journal of Medical Sciences suggests that instead of giving alkalies every hour or two, they be given continuously thus keeping the amount of acid stomach juice always under control. He suggests then that every minute of the twenty-four hours, sleeping or waking, the patient be kept supplied with an alkali. How? He suggests that a solution of milk containing a little more than a level teaspoonful of baking soda to the quart of milk be allowed to drip continuously into the stomach at the rate of thirty drops a minute, the patient thus receiving three quarts of milk and about half an ounce of baking soda per day. The long thin "guederal" tube down the throat supplying the milk and soda mixture, is kept from moving up or down by means of adhesive tape attaching it to the cheek. This should be of great help to "bed patients" in getting nourishment, and so overcoming the acid condition that the ulcer can get a chance to heal. SOME SCHOOLBOY HOWLERS

WARD'S GOAL LATE IN SECOND PERIOD SETTLES 2-1 MATCH

Greenshirts Break Away in Last Five Minutes to Break Deadlock in Rennie & Taylor Cup Fixture of Mid-Week Soccer Loop—Navy Noses Out Garrison in Exhibition Tussle, 2-1

Breaking away after their opponents had pressed hard for practically the whole half, Hudson's Bay struck in the winning goal about five minutes to the end of the first half. In the second half, they took a 2-1 decision from Spenser, a recently-crowned league champion, in the replay match of the Rennie Taylor cup series in the Wednesday Football League. The afternoon, at the Royal Athletic Park. The tussle marked the third time the teams met to decide a winner. In the first, they drew 1-1. In the first match, the teams were out and battled to a 2-2 deadlock in the second engagement after half an hour of overtime. The Bays settled the point, 2-1, after 260 minutes of play in the three matches, an endurance record for the mid-week events to shoot out. In the final preliminary game, the Navy scored 3-0 on Garrison, 2-1, in a game in which

CUBS CONTINUE FAST PACE IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Chalk Up Seventh Straight Victory By Trimming Reds

Charlie Grimm's Chicago Nine Remains Unbeaten in Pennant Chase by Downing Cincinnati, 6-1
—Yankees Take Lead in American by Nosing Out Mackmen—Detroit Loses

NATIONAL LEAGUE
CHICAGO, April 25 (AP).—Charlie Grimm's surprising Cubs were all 1,000-percenters tonight—undefeated.

Their seventh straight victory in the National League pennant chase was scored today, as they slapped down the unfortunate Cincinnati Reds in a comedy of errors, by the decisive margin of 6-1, behind a six-hit pitching performance of their former bad boy, big Pat Malone.

Today's win, the fifth straight over the crew that once had a habit of blasting Cub pennant hopes, not only gave the Cubs a full-game lead over the idle New York Giants, but established a record for consecutive games without assistance of a substitute. Only twelve players, eight regulars and pitchers Lonnie Warneke, Guy Bush, Malone and Charlie Root, have been in action during the astonishing run of the Cubs.

Braves Beat Dodgers
BOSTON, April 25 (AP).—With a home run and a double, which accounted for five runs, Hal Lee, obtained from Philadelphia in a winter trade, personally escorted Boston Braves to a 9-4 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers today for their third straight triumph.

Lee cracked out his home run in the fourth with two mates on base to tie the count, and then broke the deadlock in the sixth, when with two mates again on bases, he hit his double.

Browns Beaten
ST. LOUIS, April 25 (AP).—Timely hitting behind Monte Pearson's fine pitching gave Cleveland Indians their second straight victory of the series over St. Louis Browns today, 5-1.

Until the eighth inning, when the Indians scored three runs, it was a spirited pitching duel between Pearson and big George Bielecki.

With Frank Demaree connecting for his tenth home run of the season to start the scoring spree, Los Angeles' pennant-bound baseball club, at home Wednesday, shut out Sacramento, 5 to 0, to win the second game of the series and the nineteenth out of twenty-three starts.

Crossing the plate with the winning run himself in the ninth inning, John Babich, hurler, gave the San Francisco Missions a 2-0 victory, at Seattle in the first game of their Pacific Coast League series here.

With the score knotted at one-all, Babich led off with a single in the ninth, was advanced to third on a double by Almada, and scored on Hafe's sharp hit.

Footlight fight seized the Oaks as Sam Gibson, San Francisco Seals' flinger, blanked them, 9 to 0, in their first Coast League night game of the season at San Francisco. The Seals, whose eyes have become accustomed to bright lights in several previous, after-dark appearances, landed upon the offerings of three Oakland pitchers.

Aussies Arrive
In England for Cricket Matches
SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 25 (CP).—The main body of the Australian cricket team arrived here today, ready for a test match campaign in England, after a month's voyage from the Antipodes. Others are arriving from France, after leaving the liner on the Riviera en route.

P. M. Woodfull, the Australian captain, said the team was glad to be again in England.

TRAYNOR TAKES BIG SIX LEAD

Pirates' Third Sacker Goes to Front in Batting Race—Displaces Bill Dickey

Failure to get more than one hit in three times at bat, yesterday, cost Bill Dickey, Yankees' catcher, first place in baseball's Big Six.

Although idle, "Pie" Traynor went into the lead with a batting average of .520.

Dickey's average dropped from .383 to an even .300. Hack Wilson, the only other member of the set-tee to get into action, also lost his position, dropping from fourth to fifth place, when he connected only once in four official trips to the plate, at Boston. The standings:

J. H. Todd, Victoria, covered the difficult two-and-a-half-mile course in record time to lead a field of twenty-three runners in the annual Brentwood College steeplechase. G. P. The times clocked speak well for the calibre of these runners, as the course was wet and slippery and generally more tricky than it was when the previous record was set.

Stainforth in $7,500 Victory

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 25 (AP).—Stainforth, son of High Tide, from S. W. Labrot's Baltimore stable today, defeated fourteen other two-year-old thoroughbreds in the $7,500 Aberdeen Stakes at Havre De Grace, Md. Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Pynio Bid was second, and the Fairfield Stable's Try Sympathy third.

Stainforth, seventh in his only other start, was neglected in the wagering, returning odds of 145 to 1 for a $2 straight ticket. The victory was worth $11,000 to the colt's owner. With Jimmy Burke handling the reins, he stepped the four and one-half furlongs in 53 1-5 seconds.

The only man who ever held the American Amateur and Open Championships and British Amateur and Open Championships in one year.

With all the loose talk about inside-to-out hitting it is not surprising that so many golfers are confused, when they try to visualize just how the club should be moving at impact. They must understand that they are told to hit towards the outside in order to counteract the common tendency to cut across the ball. Here is a letter from one who has apparently succeeded too well in his efforts, with the usual result.

"Just read your article in today's paper. Was especially interested in your answer to question No. 1. For years I have been weak on a long shot to the green with the iron, on which I seem to get a slight fade just enough to fall short of the green a few feet to the right. Tried to correct the fault myself without success. Then took lessons from two professionals. Have been advised to turn in the face of the iron and hit from the inside out, usually getting a hook and a long run on the ball. My drives are straight and I have no trouble with the short irons, my game being around eighty, using a three-quarter swing on my irons. I would like to hit a straight crisp shot. Isn't there some way to do this in a natural way without turning the club may conceivably work a temporary improvement on the score card, but it will certainly not enhance a player's worth as a golfer. If he expects to learn to swing the club correctly he has no use for such expedients.

Obviously, if the clubhead is travelling directly along the line of flight when it meets the ball, and the instant of contact is square to the line, no spinning effect can be produced which would cause the ball to fade—or draw either, for that matter. Obviously, too, if the face of the club has been hooded and the direction of the blow is along the line or across it toward the outside, the player must be rewarded with the hook which now troubles my correspondent.

DO NOT NEGLECT FORWARD SHIFT OF HIP
I will wager that the trouble here has been caused by omitting the slight forward shift of the hips as the downswing is begun, and by staying too long upon the right foot. This in the first instance would cause the swing to cut across the ball, and now that a determined effort is made to hit toward the outside, to take the ball to some degree on the upstroke.

The expert golfer plays an intentional draw by exaggerating the forward shift ever so slightly in order to direct his stroke across the line towards the outside. But he retains the cock of his wrists and hits the ball a descending blow. The flight of such a shot, except for the bend, is the same as that of a normal straight-flying shot, and both flight and roll are under control. Hit on the upstroke, the backspin falls to take hold, and the means of limiting the results at the expense of the correct swing.

To attempt to correct a tendency to fade by turning in the toe of the club may conceivably work a temporary improvement on the score card, but it will certainly not enhance a player's worth as a golfer. If he expects to learn to swing the club correctly he has no use for such expedients.

Obviously, if the clubhead is travelling directly along the line of flight when it meets the ball, and the instant of contact is square to the line, no spinning effect can be produced which would cause the ball to fade—or draw either, for that matter. Obviously, too, if the face of the club has been hooded and the direction of the blow is along the line or across it toward the outside, the player must be rewarded with the hook which now troubles my correspondent.

CHOCOLATE HELD TO DRAW BY BOBBY GRAY
In Southern Battle
SAN JOSE, Cal., April 25 (AP).—Kid Chocolate, Cuba's ebony bombom, was held to a ten-round draw here last night by Bobby Gray, 131, San Jose. Ringsiders credited Chocolate with five rounds and Gray with one, but a stiff right-hand to the jaw that shook the Cuban up in the fourth, evidently caught the referee's eye and gave the home product an even break. Chocolate sealed 131.

An innocent Siamese twin was dragged into a Bakersfield (Cal.) traffic court, along with his guilty brother. These fellows are their own worst enemy.

Prince of Wales Loses First Round Army Golf Match
LONDON, April 25 (CP via Havas).—The Prince of Wales lost his game in the first round of the army team golf championship matches today. Playing against Lieut. Bushman, he was defeated by 3 and 2.

Huddersfield Beats Everton

Town Eleven Comes Within Four Points of League-Leading Arsenal Eleven

LONDON, April 25 (CP).—Huddersfield came within four points of the league-leading Arsenal by defeating Everton in an English Football League game today. Both Huddersfield Town and Arsenal have two games left, and if Arsenal gets one more point the championship is clinched.

Today's results:
ENGLISH LEAGUE
First Division
Huddersfield Town 1, Everton 0.
Third Division—Southern Section
Crystal Palace 4, Torquay Utd., 1.
Cardiff 1, Aldershot 2.
Third Division—Northern Section
Gateshead 1, Chester 3.

Cavalcade Takes Shenandoah Parse On Eastern Track

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—With a smashing record-equalling performance, Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Cavalcade, highly regarded Eastern candidate for the Kentucky Derby, justified his short odds in the future books today, when he soundly whipped six other eligibles in the Shenandoah Parse at Havre De Grace, Md.

Starting his three-year-old campaign, Cavalcade sped around the mile and seventy yards in 1:41 4-5, to equal the track mark hung up by Oculeator in 1932. At the finish he was breezing two lengths in front of Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agrarian, second in the Florida Derby. Another four lengths to the rear followed C. V. Whitley's Nily, Jabot.

Try to remember that all through the season these youngsters have been playing to practically empty sidelines. We old players can still remember

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Security Prices At Standstill at New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—Stocks were sluggish today and found little comfort in a late recovery of wheat and silver futures. Bonds seemed fairly steady, but on the whole the day's performance by financial markets was rather negative, notwithstanding evidence of further trade betterment.

Volume in equities fell under 1,000,000 shares, and with the diminished volume was an irregular lower-price movement. Net changes averaged into a net loss of a minor fraction.

People's Drug, California Packing, Harbison Walker preferred, Illinois Central preferred, Universal Pipe preferred, the Fair preferred, American Smelt and Refining, McElean preferred, Reverse Brass preferred, Eastman Kodak, Ward Baking "A" and National Steel advanced one to several points, mostly on small orders which emphasized the thinness of their market.

Textiles turned soggy on a reduction in rayon prices. Rails were little changed on balance, while motors looked easier most of the day. Several of the steels sagged slightly. Westinghouse was firm. Utilities went mildly lower. Transactions totaled 983,980 shares.

The bond market was listless and moderately irregular today, and only scattered issues were able to break out of a fractional range.

In the foreign section, Nord Railways 6 1/2's reached a record high at 161 for a gain of 6 1/2 points.

TO THE LADIES

By VIRGINIA VANE

THE BREAK FOR LIBERTY

Dear Miss Vane: I have studied your column with interest. I know that you are not in sympathy with some of the parents who keep their daughters under rigid discipline, and will not let them enjoy normal everyday pleasures.

Now, I want to ask what you think of my leaving such parents and making a break for liberty? I am eighteen, considered very good-looking, have plenty of friends, and think I could make a success in life. I want to know whether you have any objections to my going away secretly, since I know if I told my father and mother, they would be furious.—PAT.

Enduring harsh, unreasonable discipline through the years—uncomplainingly accepting a back seat in life—are two of the worst mistakes a girl can make. It shows lack of intelligence and initiative for any damsel to sit meekly at home letting life pass her by—merely because she's told to do so by a domestic tyrant and his subdued helpmeet.

But to make a break for liberty without either the training or the equipment to enjoy that liberty is an even more unintelligent move. Girls of eighteen have a habit of seeing themselves as heroic figures. Nobody blames them. It's a good sign. It shows imagination. But unless good old common sense is called in to curb the imagination, our flighty maiden will spend her life rushing from one kind of trouble to another, under the impression that she's acting like the star of a tremendous drama.

Here you, for instance, Pat, say to yourself: "I am a big number, being squashed at home by the unrelenting authority of my detested father and mother. I have lots of friends who tell me that I am a riot. I have spirit and fire. I want to be free. What more natural than that I should leave the home of my parents, leaving the conventional note behind for my father and mother to grieve over?"

Instantly you see the whole picture. Remorse of father and mother—excited admiration of loving friends—successful entrance of yourself into business world, followed by rapid promotions leading to dazzling success.

Actually you may not think those pictures out carefully but something like that is going on your brain and it convinces you that the big dramatic move is the one to make.

It's a false move. Nothing is accomplished by tremendous daring minus weapons, minus training, minus the ability to carry through your high adventure. And no humiliation could be worse for the morale than that of crawling back home to admit defeat after your dramatic exit.

It takes a certain kind of courage to strike out boldly in search of freedom. It takes a finer kind of courage to stay home and work toward the day when you will be able to take your place in the world confidently.

Be brave enough to endure the present for the sake of the future and see to it that you occupy the time of waiting in training yourself to be a useful part of the business world.

OVERCOMING BAD INFLUENCE BY GOOD

Dear Miss Vane: The man I love is very much influenced by an older man who has no ideas of right and wrong. My fiancé seems to be hypnotized by him and will do anything he says. When I am with my fiancé he is all right but let the older man be with him and he can be persuaded into any kind of disapproval. Can I take a chance on marrying and feeling that my husband can be influenced into doing things which hurt me?—M. V.

Not unless you're an amazingly strong character yourself. If you're the weak clinging type you won't have a chance against the influence which has probably worked harm for years. The older man has no doubt enjoyed his feeling of power and will not relinquish it graciously. In fact you must make up your mind to a real fight if you're going to undertake this matrimonial venture.

Understand that you have a great many weapons. You will give your husband such happiness as he has not known before. Your influence will be strong because you are not only the woman he loves—but also his home-maker, his protector, his confidante and advisor.

Perhaps your fiancé has been easily led astray in the past because he has not been happy in his own home. The future may easily be different. A weak man may be persuaded into all sorts of follies if he is discontented, restless, and without a good substantial anchor to hold him down. But the same weak man will hesitate to break up the peace and comfort of his home—to bring inharmonious into an atmosphere of love and understanding.

He will have less incentive to wander when he is a contented husband, secure in the love of a woman who understands him—and above all, considers him God's gift to women.

You can work out the problem, M. V. Make your husband realize your love for him. Give him a comfortable home and the knowledge that you are his refuge and strength. Don't nag him about his dangerous acquaintance. Just eliminate the bad influence by exerting all the good in your own nature. It will take time and patience, but if you're prepared for the fight, you will have your weapons ready and all your strength summoned to meet the situation. Good luck to you.

MADE VICE-PRESIDENT OF BIG PAPER COMPANY

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP).—A. E. McMaster, general manager of the Powell River Company, has been named vice-president. Tribute to Mr. McMaster's service was made at the annual meeting, Tuesday, by President S. D. Brooks. The meeting was also attended by Edward Brooks and Paul Brooks, Minneapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sample, Chicago.

He leaned over the garden fence and beckoned to his neighbor. "I say, old man," he said, "I understand that you have Jones's rake?"

The neighbor nodded. "Good," said the first. "If you'll let me borrow that occasionally, I'll let you use his roller whenever you want it."
